

Dual Language Design Thinking Network for Educators

The San Diego County Office of Education and the California Association for Bilingual Education invite you to join the Dual Language Design Thinking Network for Educators. The network supports the redesign of dual language programs as educators work to address current challenges and recognize and seize opportunities to engage all students. Together, let's lift biliteracy/bilingualism, academic achievement, and cross-cultural competence for our dual language learners!

Register today for this free professional network.

Join our first meeting on Oct. 26
